

2017 IMGA Youth Points Chase Program

Passion, hard work and dedication are just a few skills that IMGA junior members learn through their experiences at goat shows. From fitting to friendly competition, these youths develop skills that mold them into leaders. The IMGA Youth Points Chase is an opportunity for additional recognition and rewards exclusively for junior members of the Iowa Meat Goat Association.

The 2017 Youth Points Chase Program begins January 1, 2017 and ends on November 1, 2017.

Sanctioned shows and current points to date will be listed on the Iowa Meat Goat Association website (www.iowameatgoat.com). Members should check the website frequently for updates.

This year there will be two divisions (junior and senior) and three classes in each division; market goats, breeding goats and showmanship. Points will be counted and awarded in each class and at the end of the year, winners will be recognized at the IMGA fall banquet.

Sanctioned Shows

To qualify as a sanctioned show, a show must provide market classes, breeding classes and showmanship classes. If the participating show is a two-day show, showmanship is only required on one of the two days.

Each show will set its own rules for class sizes, weight or age breaks for market and breeding classes. Please follow IMGA breaks for showmanship.

Sanctioned shows must be open to any IMGA youth member.

Notify IMGA BOD Member Dawn McCrory at bdfarms2001@gmail.com to participate in the YPC.

Show results need to include the exhibitors' first and last name and are due within 14 days after the date of show. Please send results to bdfarms2001@gmail.com

Thank you for your support of the IMGA Youth Points Chases Program.
