

IMGA Youth Points Chase Top Goat Promoter Form

Each year, the Iowa Meat Goat Association hosts the Youth Points Chase. The Youth Points Chase is series of shows and activities that allow participants to earn points towards end of the year awards.

However, showing is not the only way IMGA youth members promote meat goats. Many members participate in activities outside of the showing. The Top Goat Promoter Award is a new award for members to work towards in 2020. Youth Points Chase participants can submit the following form after they participate in an activity that showcases their involvement in promoting meat goats outside of a showing.

Participants can earn points through many opportunities including (but not limited to):

- Write an article for the IMGA/JIMGA newsletter or website
- Putting on an educational event in their county/school/community
- Participate in county fair or 4-H/FFA goat related events or projects
- Participation in other IMGA activities other than the Fire Up Goat Camp, membership specials, IMGA Sale or Show, and the ISU Animal Learning Day. These are included in the YPC as bonus points
- Volunteer or host a goat related event not listed such as but not limited to:
 - Parade
 - Petting zoo
 - Hospitality event
- Any other goat related event that promotes meat goats

Each activity submitted is worth 5 points. These points are subject to committee approval. The Top Goat Promoter will be awarded to the participant with the most points by October 31, 2020. The winner will be announced at the IMGA Banquet.

Forms need to be mailed within 14 days of the event to Tahra Bedwell, 1015 Hwy. 69, New Virginia, IA 50210.
